Fund Bequeathed by His Father

WIDOW GETS $8,000,000

Will Did Not Mention First Wife Who Was Elsie French

NEW YORK, Aug. 9. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who perished on the Lusitania on May 7, 1915, left an estate that is appraised at $16,769,314, but he also disposed in his will of a fund of $4,612,086 left him for life by his father, Cornellus Vanderbilt. His net estate, exclusive of the trust fund, was $4,461.086. The debts of more than $4,000,000 included $2,000,000 due his wife, Mrs. Margaret Emerson Vanderbilt, under an ante-nuptial Agreement made December 15, 1911, in Other gifts under the will to the widow included $1,000,000 cash; Sagamore Lodge, Adirondack, valued at $200,000; centents of the lodge, $16,117; the Moose River tract. Adirondack, $20,000, and a trust fund of $100,000. Adirondack, $20,000, and n trust fund of $5,000,000. Upon the death of Mrs. Vanderbilt, the $5,000,000 goes to her some. Alfred, four years old, and George, two years old, the principal to be paid when they reach various ages and final distribution to be made at thirty-five. Each some also received $100,000 outright.

The will did not mention Mr. Vanderbilt's first wife, Elsle French Vanderbilt, but gave to her son, William H. Vanderbilt, the $4,612,086 fund left to the decedent by his father, Cornelius Vanderbilt.

The oldest son also got the gold medal voted by Congress to Commodore Vanderbilt, grandfather of the decedent in 1865, an oil painting of Commodore Vanderbilt, unsigned, and one of the wife of Commodore Vanderbilt painted by Fagnani, in 1866.

painted by Fagnani, in 1865.

Mr. Vanderbilt gave $500,000 to his brother, Reginald G., and $200,000 to his uncle. Frederick W. Henry B. Anderson got $200,000 and Frederick I. Merriman. who attended to the decedent's financial affairs, received $250,000. The three latter vere named as trustees and executors and the bequests were in lieu of commissions. Charles E. Croker, the decedent's secre-tary, received $10,000; Charles H. Wilson. who had charge of his horses, got $2500. Mr. Vanderbilt gave bequests of from $250 to $1500 to twenty-four employes. The largest resity holding appraised in the report is the Hotel Vanderbilt, which is valued at $2,000,000. Mr. Vanderbitt's stocks and bonds were appraised at $12,172,684, the bulk of which was in New York Central bonds.

Farmer Bequeaths Property to Wife Before Putting Bullet in Brain

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. Aug. 9.—On a table in the kitchen, where his body was found with a bullet in his brain, David Hawk left a will written on the back of an envelope. Ie read:

"Maggie" is his young wife. He did not sign the paper, but it will be offered for probate. This is the shortest will ever recorded in Franklin Ctunty, it is said. It disposes of a fairly large estate including farm, home and some valuable personal property.

THE WEATHER

WASHINGTON. Aug. 2.

For eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey: Probably showers this afternoon or tonight, cooler: Friday partly cloudy; gentie northwest winds.

The main sterm area today is centered ever the St. Lawrence Valley, while there are indications of a secondary disturbance has Lake Superior. Widespread rains have coursed during the last twenty-four hours, the greatest amounts occurring over the appainshian system from southern New York to West Virginia. More than three hashes of rain fell at Binghamton, N. Y.

FOR THE GOVERNMENT OR AGAINST, SAYS KAHN

California Representative Raps Standpatters and Demands Action Against I. W. W.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 9. Representative Julius Kahn, of Califor-nia, flayed standpatters and demanded radi-cal action against I. W. W. agitators in a stirring address before manufacturers in the annual convention of the United Cycle Trades here today. He said:

"In the present emergency, either you are for the Government or against it. There can be no middle ground. The country depends that everybody show his hand at this time. President Lincoln in 1863 said. The man who stands by and says nothing when the peril of his country is discussed cannot be misunderstood. If not hindered he is sure to help the enemy; much more if he talks ambiguously, talks his country with buts and ifs and ands. It is gratifysee many of the most promi business men of the republic rally patriotically and unselfishly to the support of the President. Washington is full of them. There is also a class of young men trained in special and technical configurations. in special and technical work where are giv-ing their all to the country. These mer constitute a roll of honor."

"On the other hand we have a class of agitators and demagogues who are sowing the wind of sedition and who will reap the whirlwind of personal disaster. Many of them occupy positions of trust and honor. The people of this country will not tolerate their seditious utterances.

"The so-called I. W. W. leaders should be checked, and that promptly. They are be checked, and that promptly. They are giving aid and comfort to the enemies of the country. Lincoln asked: 'Must I shoot a simple-minded soldier boy who deserts, while I must not touch a hair of a wily agitator who induces him to desert?' I think that in such a case, to silence the agitator and save the boy is not only constitutional but withal a great mercy. but withal a great mercy.

"If we present a united front; if we stand solidly for our rights; if we give the President that support which in this emer-gency every American citizen should do, there can be no question as to the outcome of this war."

MAY EXTEND SCHOOL HOURS

State Board Takes Steps to Require Physical Training

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9.-Extension of hool hours throughout Pennsylvania in order to make room for physical training is probable as a result of action by the State Board of Education in Harrisburg yesterday. At least two hours a week will required, in the opinion of those who have given the subject study Physical training is now compulsory only in first-class districts, of which there are only two in the State—Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. It is optional in all other

The board authorized the executive secretary, J. George Becht; Superintendent C. F. Hoban, of Dunmore, and Superintendent R. T. Adams, of Warren, to make an exhaus-tive study of conditions as they exist and prepare an outline for an appropriate course of physical training in the public schools. All grades except the kindergarten affected, including high schools. This is the most radical departure ever suggested by the State board, affecting as it does every school in the State outside of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

VETERINARY ADVISORY BOARD FOR U. S. NAMED

Appointees Include Dr. C. J. Marshall and Dr. Louis A. Klein, of Pennsylvania

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—In reorganizing the veterinary corps of the medical depart-ment the surgeon general has selected the following veterinary advisory board:

Dr. C. J. Marshall, State veterinarian of Pennsylvania; Dr. David S. White, dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine, Ohto State University; Dr. Louis A. Klein, dean of the School of Veterinary Medicine, University of Pennsylvania; Dr. V. A. Moore, dean of the New York State Veterinary College at Cornell University, and Dr. John R. Mohler, assistant chief of the Burcau of Animal Industry, Washington.

These men are chosen largely from the committee of military service appointed by the American Veterinary Medical Association. They are experienced in administrative work and familiar with the veterinary problems of the country. Doctor Marshall has spent some months in studying the operations of the veterinary service in the French and English armies at the front. The board is studying the veterinary needs of the state of the studying the veterinary needs of the army under the present emergency, and will make recommendations to the surgeon general in regard to the organization and personnel of this corps.

According to the present plan, several hundred thousand horses and mules will be needed for the army. The conservation of the health of these animals will require an immediate expansion of the veterinary corps. The army probably will need 1600 more veterinarians, depending upon its size

SUNDAY SPORTSMEN WARNED

Game Commission Says Sabbath Hunting and Fishing Must Cease

HARRISBURG. Aug 9—Warning against Sunday hunting and fishing is sounded by Doctor Kalbfus, secretary of the State Game Commission, in a letter sent out to hunters and anglers today.

Doctor Kalbfus draws attention to frequent violations of the State law in this quent violations of the State law in this respect and says that while he does not wish to work hardship to anybody or to make any threats, the "law is the law" and he means to enforce it. His letter is addressed mainly to fishermen along the lower reaches of the Susquehanna, where game wardens who arrested alleged violators layer Sunday were hedly game wardens who arreated alleged vio-lators last Sunday were badly treated by persons not involved in the offense. Both violators and those who interfere will be arrested, he says, if this occurs again.

The law, as amended by the Legislature of 1917, requires game and fish wardens to co-operate and makes refusal to do so punishable by dismissal. For this reason Doctor Kalbfus, of the Game Commission. issues warning that game wardens per-forming the duties of fish wardens Washington advises wherever any registered person imposes upon a local board and improperly secures a certificate of exemption or discharge, he advances the time of call of all other uncalled persons on the list. For this reason every registered person, and to some extent every person in the community, is more or less directly interested in seeing that the facts are brought to the attention of the Government. For every local board a person will be designated who will receive information of such cases and take appeals to the District Hoard, or inform the local board. For this reason the public is entitled to know the grounds upon which claims are exemption or discharge are being asked by registered men. Local boards should, therefore, make available for the press, from day to day, the names of persons claiming exemption or discharges, the grounds upon which such claims are based and in general the number of cases that are being disposed of by the boards from day to day. This instruction does not apply to discharges on the ground of physical disqualification.

PRESIDENT PLANS TO ROUSE COUNTRY

Seeks Opportunity to Address American People on War With Germany

MAY SPEAK TO CONGRESS

Senators and Democratic Leaders Urge Him to Make Statement to People

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. President Wilson will seek an opportunity shortly to address the American people on present conditions of the war with Germany. Mr. Wilson is keenly alive to the fact that slight apathy in this country over the war has not yet been turned into en-

Senators and other Democratic leaders who have conferred with the President recently have urged him to make some statement to the people which will satisfy the parents of the young men who have been drafted for the war and who are not yet satisfied with the reasons why this country is in the conflict. Now that the food-administration bill has been passed, a number of Senators will introduce resolutions to serve as the excuse for addresses on the possibilities of peace.

MAY ADDRESS JOINT SESSION No decision has been reached by Mr Wilson as to the manner in which he will address the American people. It may be that he will decide to appear before Congress meeting in joint session in the House of Representatives. He may prefer to write a letter to Chairman Stone, of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, as that committee will have charge of any peace resolutions that may be introduced.

Meanwhile the President is gathering in formation on which to base his address Wholly independent of the agencies at the disposal of the State Department, Mr. Wilson is at this moment receiving from trusted agents in England and France re-ports on conditions in those countries, re-ports which deal rather with the economic situation and the temper of the people than with military conditions. The President is convinced that all the peoples of Europe of the Entente or of the Central Powers are eager for peace. But he is determined that there can only be peace under the conditions which this country laid down when it entered the war. It is Mr. Wilson's hope that at the critical moment he may come forward with the suggestion that will put an end to the slaughter in Europe, even before the young manhood of the United States has paid its toll. But the President will not take the step toward peace until he is convinced that the peace that may come from his suggestion will be a peace with honor to this country and with safe ty to the democracy of the world.

To the suggestions that have come to the President from some quarters that the resistance to the draft in various portions of the country indicates a resentment against the war, Mr. Wilson remains indifferent.

indifferent. This country is at war, and Congress has decreed that its armies shall be created by selective draft. Spo-

WILL MAKE SITUATION CLEAR
But to the further suggestion that there are many degrees of intelligence amorg the people of this country, to some of which the ideal attitude of the United States in entering the war has been incomprehensible, the President has been insympathetic, and for that reason he will at the first suitable opportunity make clear—so clear that the humblest mind can understand—the reasons why America is preparing to sacrifice her blood, as she has already given up her treasure for the war with Germany.

The war and the possible to the war with Germany.

The war and the possible terms of peace will be discussed with increasing earnestness in the next few weeks. Senator Stone has already announced that he will address the Senate on the subject and resolutions, whose authors will make them the text for addresses, will be introduced by Senator Borah, of Idaho, one of the ablest of the Republican leaders, and by Senator Lewis, of Illinois, the able "whip" of the Democrats, whose relations with the White House are so close that his statements will have an unusual significance. his statements will have an unusual

SENATOR PREDICTS DISARMAMENT

"If the outcome of the world war is disarmament, then the millions of lives and the billions of treasure will not have been spent in vain. In my opinion, here lies the basis of a permanent peace agreement."

This statement was made here by a United States Senator, a member of the Committee on Foreign Relations, who has not only followed closely every step in the European war, but also is well versed in world politics. He would not permit the use of his name, but as he outlined the terms of a possible peace agreement, he confessed to the feeling that is more than a hope—that the hour is approaching when the warring nations may be able to reach an understanding. The salient points of this basic peace suggestion are:

Disarmament of the Powers.

Disarmament of the Powers, No territorial acquisition, but a re-turn to the status quo ante bellum, with the possible exception of awarding Al-No indemnities, except to Beigium, which country should be indemnified to provide for its rehabilitation.

Establishment of a world peace tribunal for the arbitration of all inter-national disputes.
